

This is the view for the Configuration panel if:

The Configuration panel is populated with the values from #data.

The Project name can be modified: when clicking Update model this will call a move_class function.

All configuration options can be modified: when clicking Update model this will update the class #libr