

This is the view for the Configuration panel if:

The Configuration panel is populated with the values from #data.

The Project name can be modified: when clicking Update model this will call a move class function.

All configuration options can be modified: when clicking `Update model` this will update the class `#libr`